D. THEMATIC AREAS

Mountain Biodiversity

Programme Element 1. Direct actions for conservation, sustainable use and benefit sharing 193. Has your country taken any measures to prevent and mitigate the negative impacts of key threats to mountain biodiversity?
a) No
b) No, but relevant measures are being considered
c) Yes, some measures taken (please provide details below)	X
d) Yes, many measures taken (please provide details below)
Further comments on the measures taken to prevent and mitigate the negative impacts of key threats to mountain biodiversity Within the 'Plan Binacional', the Belgian Development Cooperation is implementing bilateral technical assistance programmes with Ecuador and Peru, which focus on the sustainable management of natural resources in buffer zones around protected areas in the Andes (subtropical mountainous environment). Both programmes run for five years (2004-2008). The addressed key threats are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - migration; - mining activities and/or mining speculation; - deforestation and soil erosion.

Further comments on the measures for sharing the benefits arising from the utilisation of mountain genetic resources
See question 193. The area of the programme is not characterised by indigenous presence, as the local population is essentially made of 'colonos mestizos'. Nonetheless, there exists a certain heritage in terms of traditional knowledge and practices with regard to the use of genetic and biodiversity resources.

Programme Element 2. Means of implementation for conservation, sustainable use and benefit sharing
